THE BOARD OF TRADE RETURNS.

THE evidences of improvement in our foreign trade afforded by the Trade and Navigation returns for July are confirmed and strengthened by the figures for August, which show further substantial increases as compared with the corresponding month last year, both in imports and exports. The expansion recorded in the current returns is the more satisfactory from the fact that the comparison is entirely a normal one, the month containing the same number of working days this year as last. Our total imports for the month were valued at £34,611,305, as compared with £31,638,521 in August, 1894, showing an increase of £2,972,784, or 9·4 per cent. The expansion in value extends to each of the classified items, except live-stock and tobacco. Our imports for the current year to date still fall short of the aggregate for the corresponding eight months of 1894, the totals being £273,390,885 and 274,430,409 respectively; but the decline has been reduced to £1,039,524, or less than one-half per cent. The statistics of our export trade are even more satisfactory, the total value for the month of £20,481,495 comparing with £18,581,240 in August, 1894, and thus showing an excess of £1,900,255, which is equal to 10·2 per cent. The value of the total shipments for the eight months of the current year is set down at £147,158,497, which is £3,295,246, or 2·3 per cent., more than for the corresponding period of 1894. Re-exports also show a substantial growth, the total of 6,189,702 for the month being £1,062,322, or 20·1 per cent., in excess of August, 1894, while for the eight months the total of 41,211,007 represents an increase of £2,139,964, or 5·5 per cent. The subjoined tables compare the principal items of imports and exports with the corresponding totals a year ago.

Of the total increase in imports, amounting to nearly £3,000,000, £1,110,820 appears in the value of food stuffs, excluding living animals, and about one-half of this, again, is in wheat. It is noticeable that the importation of wheat from the United States was rather less than in the corresponding month last year, and that the bulk of the increase has come from Russia and India. The totals for the eight months present much the same features, with the addition of Argentina, to the countries contributing a larger supply than they sent last year. Our receipts of hams from the United States last month were small, the value being £236,014, as compared with £339,573 in August last. The total for the year, however, is £1,928,960, against £1,855,734 in the first eight months of 1894. The low price of German sugar keeps down the value of the imports, as while the landings of the raw article last month amounted to 1,169,323 cwts, as compared with 1,103,873 in August last year, an increase of 65,450 cwts, or 5·9 per cent., the value fell off by £72,288, or 8·4 per cent. The imports from Germany both of raw and refined sugar show a substantial increase for the month and the eight months, while those from other countries have expanded to a much less extent. Our importations of tea show a considerable expansion both for the month and the eight months, and while the bulk of it comes from India and Ceylon, China has also sent larger quantities.

The value of our metal imports shows a much smaller expansion than appeared in the previous month, owing to a heavy falling off in the value of copper. This occurs in spite of a larger import, the increase in weight being confined to the receipts of ore, while there is a decline in regulus and unwrought copper. The better tone in the pig-iron trade has given an impetus to the imports of Spanish ore, the value of last month's shipments from Bilbao reaching £223,684, as compared with £209,378 in August last year. Our imports of iron ore during the current year still fall short of the receipts in the first eight months of 1894 by some 220,000 tons in quantity, and £200,000 in value. Although our imports of textile materials last month were £386,088, or 15·7, larger in the aggregate than in the corresponding month last year, our receipts of cotton, one of the chief staples, were considerably less, and in spite of a further rise in prices, the decrease in value is equal to 20·6 per cent., while in quantity it is only 12·7 per cent. The falling off in quantity is shown in the receipts from America, Egypt, and India, and is probably due to the disturbed state of the markets in consequence of speculative operations. We have, however, imported from the United States this year 9,234,837 cwts of raw cotton, at a cost of only £15,299,266, while in the like period last year 7,213,807 cwts, or, 2,000,000 cwts less, were valued at £15,506,529, or £200,000 more than this year's larger quantity. Among other textile materials hemp shows a substantial increase for the month, and the growth in silk imports goes far to wipe out the previously existing decrease. The chief feature, however, is the remarkable expansion in imports of colonial and foreign wool, the greater portion being naturally supplied by our Australasian colonies. For the month of August the weight imported has gone up from 28,731,919 lbs in 1893 and 32,725,424 lbs in 1894 to 40,198,886 lbs last month, and the recent rise in prices makes the percentage of increase in value almost equal to that in quantity, the rates being 22·4 and 22·9 per cent. respectively. For the eight months, however, the increase in quantity is 8·7 per cent., and that in value only 1·8 per cent. An increase appears in the value of all the sundry raw materials except wood, the expansion being most noticeable in caoutchouc and tallow, the latter coming almost exclusively from Australia.

As regards sundry imports, the value of palm oil, petroleum, and turpentine were considerably larger last month than in August last year, the imports for the year also showing an increase in each case as well as in seed-oil. Oil-seeds, on the other hand, exhibit a falling off, an increase in cotton-seed from Egypt and flax and linseed from Russia being more that offset by a contraction in the receipts of flax and linseed from India. For the year the flax and linseed shipped from our dependency are valued at only £633,351, as compared with £1,754,236 in the corresponding eight months of 1894. A not altogether satisfactory feature of the returns is the increase in manufactured articles imported, which amounted last month to £782,307, while for the year the increase has amounted to no less than £3,402,178, and the value of articles manufactured abroad and imported into the United Kingdom amounts to £49,229,826, or more than one-sixth of our total imports. The increase is very largely in French silk goods, and to a much smaller extent in leather from France, India, and the United States.

In our export trade, the summary tables show an almost universal increase, the only exceptions being very slight declines in exports of living animals and in machinery. The most important expansion is naturally shown in yarns and textile fabrics, as these constitute nearly one half our total exports. The increase in cotton piece goods is comparatively small, amounting to only about £100,000, or 2·5 per cent., and this was only attained by an expansion in the shipments to Germany, China, the United States, Chili, and the Argentine Republic off-setting a falling-off in the value of exports to our Indian possessions. The increase of £100,000 for the month and £300,000 for the year in our exports of woollen and worsted yarn is due almost entirely to the better demand for Germany, which last month took 3,837,600 lbs, as compared with 2,183,100 lbs in August, 1894, and in the eight months 23,817,400 lbs, against 16,810,700 lbs in 1894, the increase in value for that period being £540,000, or 37 per cent. With reference to woollen and worsted fabrics, the notable feature is the immensely increased demand for the United States. Our exports of worsted tissues thither last month were valued at £418,834, as compared with £102,484 in August last year—an increase of over 300 per cent. For the eight months the value is £3,234,900, as compared with £704,498. The only noticeable feature among metal exports is a gain of £30,000 in the shipments of tin-plates to the United States. Our exports of machinery last month were much on the same scale as in the corresponding month, a decline in the value of agricultural machinery for South America and other descriptions for Russia having been off-set by a number of small increases in other items. An increase of coal shipments in August of nearly 500,000 tons was equal to 16·2 per cent., but the gain in value was only 2·7 per cent. For the year to date our coal exports have reached 21,853,119 tons, as compared with 22,204,997 tons in 1894—the decrease of 351,878 being equal to 1·6 per cent., while the falling off of £1,559,221 in value represents a percentage of 13·1.

The increase in re-exports is again almost entirely in colonial wool, which has been taken in much larger quantities by Germany, France, and the United States, while shipments to Holland have declined.
